Governor of Hawai'i

Aloha and Welcome to Hawai'i's State Parks!

Hawai'i is the most remote land mass on earth. Its reputation for unsurpassed natural beauty is reflected in its parks. Hawai'i's State Park System is comprised of 55 state parks encompassing nearly 26,000 acres on the 5 major islands. These parks offer varied outdoor recreation and heritage opportunities. The park environments range from landscaped grounds with developed facilities to wildland areas with trails and primitive facilities.

The outdoor recreation program offers a diversity of coastal and wildland recreational experiences, including picnicking, camping, lodging, ocean swimming, snorkeling, surfing, sunbathing, beach play, fishing, sightseeing, hiking, pleasure walking, and backpacking.

The heritage program protects, preserves, and interprets excellent examples of Hawai'i's natural and cultural heritage. The exceptional scenic areas are managed for their aesthetic values while vantage points are developed for their superb views of our Hawaiian landscape.

We invite you to experience Hawai'i's special environment, learn more about its unique history, and participate in the outdoor recreational opportunities by visiting our parks. But these uniquely Hawaiian resources are fragile and irreplaceable. So as you visit, please help us protect these resources for future generations.

AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT

The Department of Land and Natural Resources is committed to providing equal access for everyone to experience the varied outdoor recreation and heritage opportunities our state parks have to offer. Hawai'i's state parks have recently been surveyed for accessibility and the Division of State Parks is currently implementing a plan, under the Americans with Disabilities Act, to make the parks accessible to persons with disabilities. Improvements to state parks are implemented as funds are made available and should be completed within 6 years. For more information on the accessibility of state park sites, call Dan Quinn at (808) 587-0289.

Permits for Nā Pali Coast State Park

Nā Pali Coast State Park on Kaua'i is one of the most popular and heavily used wilderness areas in the state. The heavy demand for a limited number of camping permits has created a need for special permit conditions.

Of the 5 consecutive nights that may be camped in Nā Pali Coast State Park on Kaua'i, no more than 3 nights may be spent at Miloli'i. The stopover camp in Hanakoa Valley may be used for only one night when backpacking to the camp at Kalalau Beach and may be used for one other night when hiking out of Kalalau.

Camping permits may be applied for one year in advance and up to 5 persons can be listed on a permit. During periods of peak demand (eg. summer), one third of the camping spaces for a one week period at Kalalau and Miloli'i are available 4 weeks in advance and can be obtained in person only through the Kaua'i District Office on the first day of issuance with up to 2 persons listed on these permits. On the second day of issuance and thereafter, permits may be obtained from any district office.

Special use permits are required to hike on the Kalalau Trail beyond Hanakāpī'ai Valley, to spend the day in Kalalau Valley, and to land kayaks or other watercraft at Kalalau Beach. Boat landings are prohibited or restricted at the other beaches. Inquire at the Kaua'i District Office for more information.

SAFETY TIPS

Our wildlands and ocean can be exceedingly dangerous. Since natural hazards are part of our natural environment, the outdoor can never be guaranteed safe.

Think safety. Do not take unnecessary risks and heed warnings - they are for your protection. Check weather and surf reports and always take note of posted ocean condition signs. If in doubt, contact the district office as to the safety of an area. Be prepared - have a safe outing.

Emergencies

In the case of emergency requiring police, ambulance service, firemen, or search and rescue, dial "911" on Kaua'i, O'ahu, Maui and Hawai'i. On Moloka'i, dial "0". No coins required.

Civil Defense Warnings

When you hear the Civil Defense sirens (a steady siren tone for 3 minutes, repeated as necessary), listen to your radio for emergency information and instructions broadcast by Civil Defense. Take necessary action.

Water Safety

Swimming. Lifeguard services are provided only at Hāpuna Beach State Recreation Area, Hawai'i and at Keawa'ula Beach, Ka'ena Point State Park, O'ahu. For your own safety, swim only at protected beaches and only during calm conditions; always swim with a friend. Know your own and your partner's swimming abilities. Children should always be watched closely.

Flotation Gear. Poor swimmers and weak individuals should use inflatables such as air mattresses and tubes only with a great deal of caution.

Bodysurfing. Bodysurfing is one of the most dangerous ocean sports. It requires special knowledge and techniques as well as good physical condition. To avoid injury, seek competent instruction and familiarize yourself with the surf conditions.

Snorkeling. Always snorkel with a friend and stay in close visual contact with your partner. Familiarize yourself with the snorkeling area and the water conditions. Use caution when entering and leaving the water. Watch for boats and floating devices, as well as other snorkelers and swimmers.

Hazardous Tidal Conditions. Once water rises above the knees, water conditions can become dangerous if waves or currents are present. Waders to offshore islands should know the surf and tidal conditions before embarking on their trip. Return before the tide rises or have an alternate route.

Dangerous Shoreline Conditions. Shoreline hazards include sea cliffs with vertical drops, large breaking waves, and wet, slippery surfaces. Always face the ocean and stay a distance away from wave dampened rock surfaces.

Dangerous Marine Life. Many forms of marine animals are dangerous if provoked, mishandled, or eaten. Avoid contact with unfamiliar marine animals. Be cautious of animals with spines, pincers, sharp teeth, and poisonous stings.

Tsunami (Tidal Wave). Tsunami can occur at beaches and low lying coastal areas. When a tsunami warning is given, follow the instruction issued through the Emergency Broadcast System.

Outdoor Safety

Sun Exposure and Skin Damage. Guard against sunburn and long-term effects of skin cancer by using a sunscreen or wearing a hat and loose-fitting clothing.

Heat Exhaustion. During oppressively hot and muggy days, avoid unnecessary exposure to heat and drink plenty of water.

Freshwater Swimming and Drinking Water. Avoid entering streams and ponds when you have open cuts or abrasions on your skin. Do not drink the water without first boiling or using purification tablets. Harmful bacteria, such as leptospirosis, may be present and poses a serious health threat.

Hiking. Plan your hike by knowing the terrain to be covered, the length of the trail, weather conditions, time of day, and hazards along the trail. Allow ample time to return before nightfall by figuring 1.5 miles per hour. Carry proper equipment, including a first aid kit and plenty of water. Wear proper shoes and clothing. Stay on the designated trail and be extra cautious when crossing streams and walking on wet, slippery trails or on loose, crumbly soil or rock. Hike in a group and keep track of those in your party.

Kalalau Trail, Nā Pali Coast SP, Kaua'i.

Rock Climbing. Hawai'i's mountains are porous, crumbly weathering basalt. They are not suitable for roping or climbing.

Rock Slides and Rock Falls. Steep valley walls, sea cliffs, and waterfalls are subject to rock slides and falls. Use extra caution in these areas.

Flash Floods. Gentle streams can quickly become rushing torrents. Watch for signs of flash flooding: increase in the speed of the stream flow, rapid rise in stream level, a distant rumbling upstream and the smell of fresh earth. Be prepared to move immediately to higher ground and never attempt to cross the stream when the water level is above your knees.

Poisonous Plants. Never experiment with unfamiliar plants - a taste of some plants can kill you.

Dangerous Animal Life. Be aware of insects that can inflict painful stings and bites, such as the black widow spiders, scorpions, centipedes, bees, and wasps.

PARK PROGRAMS

The State Parks Interpretive Program seeks to promote understanding and appreciation of the many valuable and unique natural and cultural resources found within our Hawai'i state park system. In some of our parks you will find signs and brochures to assist with your visit. If brochures are not available at the park, you may request one through the district offices. There may be a fee for some brochures.

Special interpretive programs are available for organized groups on a pre-arranged basis at selected state parks.

- At Kahana Valley State Park on O'ahu there are programs on Hawaiian arts and crafts, traditional subsistence practices, and tours of various cultural sites, including a ko'a (fishing shrine) and a fishpond. Call (808) 237-7766 or FAX (808) 237-7765 for reservations and information.
- At Lapakahi State Historical Park on Hawai'i, interpretive guides provide talks and demonstrations on the traditional lifestyle of an Hawaiian fishing community, including various fishing techniques, food preparation, house construction, and games. Call (808) 882-6207.
- At the Royal Mausoleum on O'ahu, a curator is available to assist with talks and guided tours of the property. Call (808) 587-2590.

Additional interpretive services and special programs are offered by various non-profit organizations and concessionaires in the parks, including the Friends of 'Iolani Palace ('Iolani Palace, O'ahu), Kōke'e Natural History Museum (Kōke'e State Park, Kaua'i), and the boat tours to the Fern Grotto (Wailua River State Park, Kaua'i).

Sustaining Hawai'i's Resources

Hawai'i's environment is unique, diverse, and fragile. Our resources are some of the most endangered in the world. This means we must all do our part to help sustain Hawai'i's valuable resources. Please be a model visitor - pick up your litter, pack out what you pack in, and do not damage the plants, animals, historic sites, and reefs. These resources are important elements of Hawai'i's past and our future.

To sustain these natural and cultural resources, we ask for your help as a volunteer or an interested visitor with a suggestion. Please contact the nearest district office if you would like to help.
